Hornets Mix With Reno Five for Crown

Is This Your Mess?

CAFETERIA MESS—Shown above is an example of the way students have been bussing their dishes lately. Lack of cooperation by students in helping keep the cafeteria clean has led to the hiring of additional help, at $1.50 an hour, according to The Hornet foundation. —Hornet Photo by Pete Sarber

Meal Costs Increase In Campus Cafeteria

A 28% rise in the cost of the six basic foods used by the SSC cafeteria is the reason for the recent price hike in certain items, according to Dr. Blair Mayne, executive dean and a member of the Hornet foundation board of directors.

Mayne explained that the cafeteria operated at a loss through November and December of 1956.

It is essential that the cafeteria and bookstore show a profit because these two support the Hornet foundation, Mayne said. The foundation is making payments of $780 a month on the new Student Activities building.

Another member of the board stated that the loss of revenue was also the reason for tighter restrictions on returning of books to the bookstore. A student who wishes a refund must now also present his drop card before he can have his money returned.

An additional reason for the raise in cafeteria costs was the necessity to replace 150 dozen sets of knives, forks, and spoons which were misplaced or destroyed by being broken into pieces as a pasttime.

Student's refusal to buss their dishes has led to the hiring of additional help, at $1.50 an hour, Mayne said.

Mayne hoped that by supplying the students with the information, that more cooperation would be forthcoming and expenses could be cut.

Miss Clark Quits Class Presidency

Joanna Clark, senior class president, submitted her resignation Monday because she said she did not feel that she was able to attend "to all the duties of office."

Miss Clark, in her letter of resignation to Tom Willoughby, Associated Students president, said she had changed her plans and now intends to transfer to another college for advanced work. She stated that she does not feel she could fulfill her position as "a responsible officer should."

In resigning, Miss Clark recommended that the senior vice president, Bob Zaro, take over her duties, including a seat on the Student Council. She stated that Zaro "is capable of filling my place and has consented to do so."

Miss Clark said, "I could, as I suspect others have done, retain my position without attending to all of the duties of office," but, "I do not wish to make the members of the senior class suffer on my account."

The retiring president asked to be allowed to report to the Council on her controversial "$13 fee plan." She added, "This might be a good time to consider, also, the question of the necessity for class government.

Willoughby Seeks Picnic Chairman For May Event

Tom Willoughby, Associated Students president, and Mary Nosler, coordinator of social activities, are still looking for an executive coordinator for the all college picnic, which is slated for May 31, at Elk Grove park.

The picnic committee will be run on the lines of the Homecoming committee. The executive coordinator will be chairman of a committee consisting of one member from each of the clubs participating in the picnic. The clubs selected will each have charge of a specific area of the picnic.

The clubs and the various activities they are in charge of are as follows: Activity committee CAPHER; Variety show, Rally committee; Dinner, Home Economics club; Clean up, Circle K; Bon Fire, Alpha Phi Omega.

Mary Jo Sobkowsky will be in charge of publicity.

Willoughby said that clubs have not yet been selected to head committees for the dance, band concert and children's games.

State To Open Parking Lot Bids

Bids will be opened on March 5 by the state public works board for the construction of a new 450 car paved parking lot for Sacramento State College students.

Dr. F. Blair Mayne, executive dean, said the lot will be located south of Sinclair road. He added it will replace the one taken over by construction of the new classroom building south of the Education building.

The parking problem was aggravated, Mayne said, when the new building was started approximately three months ahead of schedule and before construction of the new lot which was to have been completed before the building was started.

Everything Closed

Student Council voted unanimously to close the cafeteria, student lounge, and snack bar during the Convocation to be held next Thursday at 10 a.m. in the gym. Classes will be dismissed.

ASKOA DUTT

Indian Addresses SSC Convocation

Asoka Dutt, United Nations press officer, will speak Thursday at 10 a.m. in the college gymnasium.

The Indian newsman's topic will be The New Asian-African Nations: Their Background and Aspirations.

Classes will be dismissed at 10 a.m.

Dutt graduated from the Presidency College in Calcutta. While a student, he was elected an executive of the National Students Congress, an organization which supported Gandhi and Nehru.

As a result of taking part in Gandhi's "Quit India" movement against the end of British rule, Dutt was held a political prisoner for two years.

By 1946, he had joined the English-language newspaper, Indian news Chronicle in Delhi.

Dutt later became news editor of the National Call and went to Ceylon as correspondent for that paper.

Later he was assigned to cover the United Nations at Lake Success.

He reported on UN proceedings for two years before becoming a press officer with the international organization.

SSC Enrollment Hits High Total of 5014

Sacramento State College's total enrollment increased by 630 students over the 1956 spring semester total following the close of registration last Friday according to Dr. W. D. Albright, admissions officer. Out of the 5014 total enrollment, 2621 are regular students which is a drop of 29 students from last fall's figure.

Two Games Set To Name 1957 League Champs

By LEE FARNSWORTH

Championship of the Far Western Conference will be at stake tomorrow night when the Sacramento State College Hornets travel to Reno in the opening of a two game series against the University of Nevada Wolfpack.

The Hornets are on top of the standings with a 7-1 record, while the Wolfpack is right behind with 6-2. The contests will climax the FWC season for both clubs.

SSC will need one victory to insure the championship, while the Nevada five will have to capture both games if they hope to wear the FWC crown.

The Nevadans, undefeated in 10 straight games before last weekend, were handed two consecutive defeats by unheralded Humboldt State College last weekend to enable the high flying Hornets to move into a full game lead over the Reno team. SSC's only loss was to San Francisco State College.

The Green and Gold suffered several injuries in the contest against Chico State last Friday but none are considered very serious and the Hornet five should be at full strength for the Reno contests.

Coach Harvey Roloff of the locals is expected to start Norm Weis and Dale Freeman or Frank White at forwards, Don Fausset at center, Bob Schurr and Chuck Mobley at guards. Probable starters for the Nevada five are Dane Sullivan and Jim Lyon at forwards, Stan Summers at center, George Nelson and John Legarrza at guards.

Religious Groups Set Special Week

Religious Emphasis Week will be observed by the students of Sacramento State College for the first time next week. The activity is observed nationally on many college campuses throughout the United States.

The council of religious organizations which has just been organized on the SSC campus will coordinate this activity. Dale Johnson, acting president of the council, announced that the week will begin with the movie, One God, open to all students Tuesday in the Little Theatre. "This is one of the best religious movies out at this time," Johnson added.

On Thursday at 1 p.m., the various religious organizations on campus will hold separate meetings open to all students. Some of these meetings are as follows:

Wesley club will meet in 209 Douglass hall.

Newman club will hold an information hour in Douglass hall. Father James Poole, superintendent of Catholic schools of the Sacramento diocese, will answer questions on Catholicism.

Westminster student fellowship will also meet in Douglas hall.

Coming Events

TODAY — ICC, 202 Administration Building, 1 p.m., band concert, Little Theater, 8:13 p.m.; Circle K, business administration club; Christian Science organization, Canterbury club; Phi Kappa Delta, and Westminster club, meetings.

MONDAY — Student Council, 3 p.m., student lounge, Kappa Sigma Phi and Xi Theta Chi meetings.

TUESDAY — French club and Delta Phi Omega meetings.

WEDNESDAY — Boxing vs Chico State, gym, 8 p.m.; Alpha Pi Delta and Cosmopolitan club meetings.

THURSDAY — Convocation, gym, 10 a.m. classes dismissed; Baptist students union, Lutheran students and Christian Science organization meetings.

BAILEY ANNOUNCES CAMPUS PARKING PLAN

Student Council members were dismayed Monday, when during a discussion of the parking problem on the SSC campus, Dr. Donald W. Bailey, dean of students, said that certain state agencies want to charge students for on-campus parking.

Bailey later told the Hornet that pay-parking was not in the forseeable future. Bailey said, "I actually don't think it's eminent. We will fight it off as long as we can. I seriously doubt if it will even happen."

Bailey made the statement following a complaint by Walt Goldthorpe, who was indignant about receiving a ticket for parking in a no parking zone. Goldthorpe felt that signs should be posted and warnings given to students before "hot-tickets" were given.

The Council voted to look into the situation.

In routine business Council accepted the resignations of Mary Ann Butler and Beverly Bernardo from the cabinet of coordinators. The resignation of Joanna Clark as senior class president was also accepted.

Sylvester McElroy was appointed as Coordinator of Publicity.

John Krier, Associated Students manager, reported that the Hornet foundation repaid the $6,000 loan made by the Associated Students to the foundation.

Corky Fergusson, ASSSC secretary-treasurer reported that Forest Lake had been chosen for the Council Conference with the newly elected Council members. The three-day conference will begin May 24th.

President Quits

Joanna Clark, senior class president, resigned recently in a nearly unprecidented move. In resigning, she gives up her seat on the Student Council as well as surrendering the class post.

Although she gave lack of sufficient time for the job as the reason for her resignation, Miss Clark made no secret of the fact that she was piqued by Associated Students action concerning the Senior Ball. Student Council refused to give the seniors a free hand in ball preparations.

Mis Clark, told the Hornet that she had planned a "spectacular" ball for the college's 10th anniversary. She admitted that it would cost more money than was alotted in the budget, but she said the class planned to pay the balance with money gained from the controversial "$13 fee."

The Hornet has consistently opposed the senior fee proposal as an unwise one, but it cannot help but sympathize with Miss Clark's feelings about Associated Students handling of the question. If class officers are to be nothing more than a rubber stamp for the Student Council they could just as well be dispensed with.

The problem is a simple one. If the Student Council intends to continue to run class government, why bother with the formality of class officers. If class officers are desired, then the Student Council should give them the power to operate. The Council should not, however, continue in the present system of time-consuming elections for meaningless class officers.

Class government on this campus has generally been considered as a joke for some time. Class meetings are usually very poorly attended and the voting percentage in class elections is even lower than the miserable turnouts for Associated Students balloting. The probable reason for the lack of interest in class politics is their unimportance.

The time has come for Student Council to either elevate class government to a position of importance — or dissolve it all together. SSC has had enough of the puppet class officers.

Winners Help College

Sacramento State College's basketball team will play for the Far Western conference championship this weekend in Reno. This is the most obvious indication that sports are on the upswing on this campus. The days of the cellar dwelling Hornets may be gone for good.

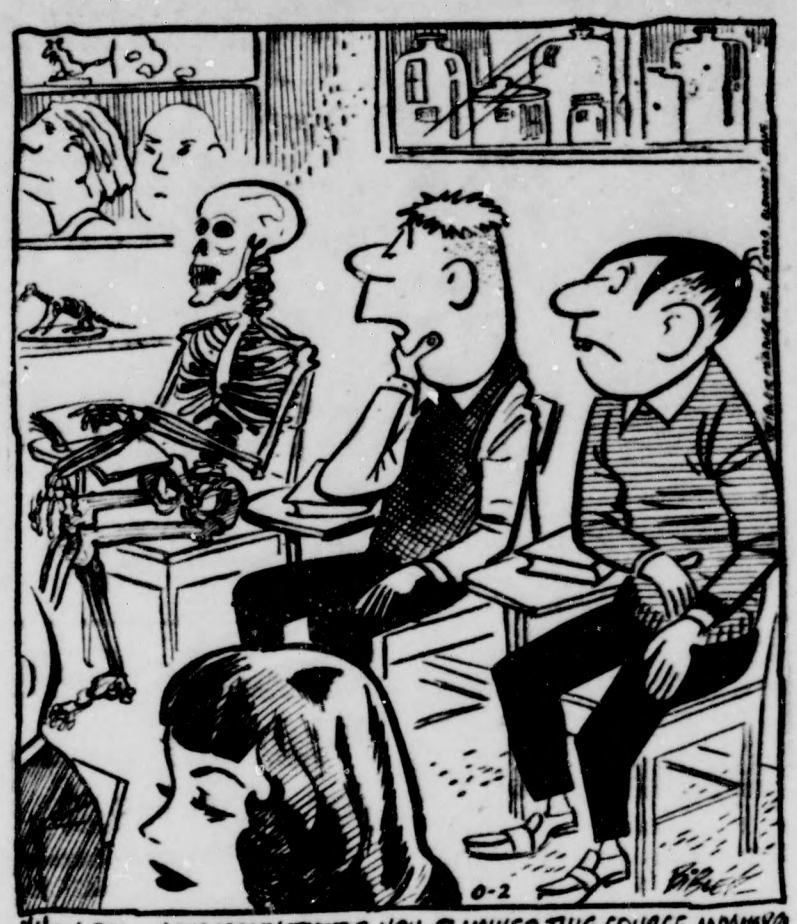

It should give most students a good feeling to know that their college has a winner. Although certainly not the most important aspect of college life, sports are at least, the showiest. Everyone hears of a winning team—and remembers the name of the college that produced it. Everyone regards an habitual loser with scorn.

The rest of the year could be a good one for sports at SSC. The basketball team is in first place and needs only to split with Nevada to win the championship. The boxing team is still undefeated, and may be able to go through the season that way. It looks like SSC may have another championship baseball team. And so it goes.

So far, the athletic resurgence has not spread to football, but if Dr. Guy A. West, college president, is able to land a good coach for next fall, Hornet fans may be able to look forward to a winner in that sport too.

It is doubtful if the new sports success will help SSC to educate its non-athletes any better than when the Hornets were losing—but at least, winning makes college more fun.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

President's Comments

By TOM WILLOUGHBY
Associated Students President

The ideas expressed in this column are those of the author and are not necessarily the opinions of either The Hornet or the Student Council.

Thursday at 10 a.m. the clarion voice of protest will be heard over the breadth of the campus. Why? Because the cafeteria, the snack bar, the student lounge snack bar and the student lounge will be closed during the ten o'clock hour. Let us anticipate the protest against what many will consider an unreasonable administrative decree and try to give some measure of explanation for it.

The fact of the matter is that the college will present a convocation at 10 a.m. Thursday. Guest speaker will be Askoa Dutt from India, who will explain just what he thinks is India's rule on the international scene and why India conducts herself as she does. All classes will be dismissed so that everyone may have the opportunity of hearing Dutt.

This being the situation, the college administration asked the Student Council to decide if any of the facilities on campus should be closed during the convocation. This action shifted the entire responsibility for any decision right to the place where it belonged—on the shoulders of the council.

Last Monday after considerable debate the council decided to ask that the cafeteria, snack bar, and lounge be closed. They felt that inasmuch as the convocation was part of the instructional program and classes were being dismissed, that it was hardly more than fitting that the other facilities be closed.

If some of us disagree with the council, if we would rather use the time for a coffee binge or to nap in the student lounge, or to peruse our favorite textbook—we still have a right to voice our opinion.

The point is that we should know where to go to express it. In this case the decision was made exclusively by your elected representative. If there are any condemnations or commendations for that matter, they should be registered with the Student Council.

It was announced late last week that on Saturday, May 18, we will be hosts to a three-way post-season track meet. Our guests will be Chico State College and the United States Air Force Academy.

This promises to be a good meet — if we can field a representative track team this year. Up to the present however, only twenty men have gone out for the track squad. We certainly need more men to field a well-rounded team. It has been said that there is only one prerequisite for a track man — that he beable to place one foot in front of the other. If he can't do that, he can be converted to field events.

Seriously, however, our track squad does need more men. It doesn't make any difference whether they are experienced or not. Anyone interested should see coach Roloff.

LITTLE MAN — The first dwarf exhibited was a man, 53 years of age, 22 inches high, who was shown at the house of widow Bignall at Boston, Mass. Admission was one shilling. His appearance was advertised in the Massachusetts Spy, August 22, 1771.

Hughart to Help Scientific Goal

A National Science Foundation project to obtain more scientists for America has been undertaken by Dr. Stanley P. Hughart, assistant professor of mathematics.

Dr. Stephen L. Walker, dean of instruction, announced recently that Hugart has been granted a leave of absence for the spring semester to develop the foundation's program.

The project is being carried on at Oklahoma A & M College in Stillwater, Okla. The aim is to develop a modern program for the training of high school science teachers.

Hughart will design, inaugurate, and evaluate the program. The intention is to prepare teachers who will be able to interest more students in science careers.

Hughart gained the SSC faculty in 1954 after teaching at Princeton and the University of Chicago. He holds a Ph.D from the California Institute of Technology.

He is the second SSC professor to engage actively in attempts to improve instruction in science. Dr. Charles Howard, professor of education, is on leave for the 1956-57 academic year to work with British and Belgian university faculties on revision of their science teaching methods.

New Students Must Complete Physical

New students who have not yet completed a physical examination at SSC should report to the Health office, 101 Physics building, and make arrangements to accomplish this requirement.

Geeting To Hold Shrew Tryouts

Dr. Baxter Geeting, chairman of the division of humanities and fine arts, will hold tryouts for Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew tomorrow and Saturday in 132 Music-Speech building.

The tryouts tomorrow are for men, from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Tryouts for women will be Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Kit Selvig, student director said, students interested in working in the production or who find it impossible to attend regular tryouts should contact her at GL 1-8840.

The play, one of the most popular and most successful of Shakespeare's comedies will be presented April 23 through 28.

It contains two female roles, that of the high-spirited Kate and her sister Bianca as well as many male parts, such as Petruchio, the clown Grumio , and Bianca's lovers including Hortensio, Gremio, and Lucentio.

Director Selects Bernadine Cast

Cast members were chosen this week for Sacramento State College's drama production of Bernadine. The play will run March 13 through 16 at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theater.

In the cast are Tod Argante, Don Long-Hurst, Ed Cooper, Ron Lynn, Peter Sarber, Theresa Hollander, Lona Isoard, Betty Waidlich, Allen Glass, Don Dittmer, Don Kuhn, Gary David, Sue Morton, Roy Williams, and Paul Bertrand.

Dr. Carl A. Thomas, assistant professor of speech announced that general admission price will be $1.00. High school students will be charged 35 cents with student body card, and ASSSC card holders will be admitted free.

Bernadine is the second major production at SSC this year, and will be followed by Taming of the Shrew, and one-act plays this spring.

Campus Artists Place In Show

Several Sacramento State College artists are numbered among the winners in the 14th annual Northern California Arts, Inc. show, beginning at Crocker Art Gallery Sunday.

In addition to Riis Bohr, instructor in art, who won a first place in oils and third in graphics, John Wells, second in decorative arts, and Wade Cline, second in oils, all of whom were listed in last week's Hornet, Dr. Lee Kavajian, assistant professor of life science at SSC, took a third award in decorative arts.

CONCERT—Barbara Rusch on the bassoon and Louis Invernon on the clarinet warm up for tonight's concert. They are part of SSC's Symphonic Wind Ensemble. Hornet photo

Wind Ensemble Presents Concert

Sacramento State College's Symphonic Wind Ensemble presents a concert tonight of contemporary music at 8:13 in the Little Theater.

The program, free to the public, includes a newly published prelude and scherzo by Gustov Holst called Hammersmith, The Lads of Wamphray, a march based by Percy Grainger on his setting for an old Scottish ballad, La Fiesta Mexicana by H. Owen Reed, and Paul Creston's Legend.

The 50 member band appears free of charge, under the direction of Norman J. Hunt, associate professor of music.

City Entertainment Will Cover Comedy To Symphony

Fine arts around town cover a variety of performances this week, from comedy to the San Francisco Symphony.

The Symphony appears as part of the Saturday Club Celebrity Series on Tuesday in the Memorial Auditorium. With a curtain time of 8:30 p.m., the concert features conductor Enrique Jorda, and three major works by Prokofieff, Stravinsky and Tchaikovsky. Tickets are on sale at Sherman Clay box office.

Saturday night is the fourth performance of JayRob Productions' Tender Trap by Max Shulman. The adult comedy begins at 8:30 in the Studio Theater Playhouse. Next production is The Little Hut, scheduled to begin March 16.

Armchair Cruise Series travels to the Toy Countries tonight for the second time in the Sacramento High School auditorium, at 8:30. This excellent travel film is a presentation of Nicol Smith.

Tonight also highlights the first in a series of six performances of A Roomful of Roses, Sacramento Civic Repertory Theater production. Elizabeth Huddle, Michael Streit, Virginia Fry, Charles Leuchter, Wayne Long, Patricia Dixon, Marian Sibley and Rosalee Wible are featured in the play holding forth in the Eaglet Theater at 8:30 p.m.

Following the present Eaglet production, tryouts are scheduled Monday and Tuesday for Ladies In Retirement, the fifth event in its play series. These are held at 7:30 p.m. in the Eaglet Theater, and the suspense play will be staged in April.

On the art scene, the Prints Room of the State Library is featuring this month the 21st annual exhibit of the Prairee Print Makers, along with sculpture and crafts from Sacramento State College. The room is open to the public Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 to 5 p.m.

New Frat Plans Rush

Omega Chi Delta, a new social fraternity on campus, will begin rushing activities March 4, according to Glenn Howard, president.

"A sensible and mature initiation will be our policy," says Howard. "Rushing will follow Inter Fraternity council procedures."

The new fraternity's first activity will be a dinner at Boitano's for the formal recognition of their 13 chapter members. Dr. Lawrence M. Brammer, associate dean of students, will orientate the fraternity to the college at that time.

The fraternity has an intramural basketball team which is now in practice for its 10 scheduled games.

Other officers are Howard Pearson, vice president; Ev Brown, secretary; Duke Dulcey, treasurer; Gene Rocker, pledgemaster; Dick Jacka, Inter Fraternity representative. Committee chairmen are John Van Ness, sports; Glenn Winter, social activities; Jim Enos, projects; Bob Nielson, fraternity house; Babe Leal, publicity. Dr. William R. Dodge, assistant professor of education, is the fraternity sponsor.

New Religious Club Formed On Campus

Plymouth Fellowship is the newest religious club on campus. It is composed of Congregational students, and was officially recognized at the end of the fall semester.

President of the new group is Tom Faist. He will be assisted by Jean Bockmeier, vice president; Lou Luther, ICC representative and Carolyn Nelson, secretary-treasurer. Faculty sponsors are Dr. Rodger Bishton and Dr. William R. Blackler.

Club Launches Drive

Helen Yokoi, secretary-treasurer of Collegia Medicus, has announced that the club is planning a membership drive.

Anyone interested in nursing, life science, or laboratory technology may join the club, whose basic aim is to acquaint those interested in these fields with their vocations.

CAMELLIA FESTIVAL—Fay Sims, Gail Blodgett and Edith Kellog, left to right, will represent Sacramento State College in the final competition on Thursday for the selection of a queen to reign over the 1957 Camellia Festival March 1-10. The three SSC coeds will compete against six other contestants from Sacramento Junior College and American River Junior College for the title. The nine contestants will be guests for luncheon of several service clubs in Sacramento on Monday through Wednesday. Final judging will be held Thursday and the queen will be announced at a Chamber of Commerce breakfast in the Senator Hotel March 1. —Hornet Photo by Bob Sparks

Neal Amick Heads Alpha Phi Delta Fraternity; New Policy Starts

Neal Amick has been chosen to lead Alpha Pi Delta, social fraternity, for the spring semester. His slate of officers include: James Webster, vice-president; John Locarnini, secretary; and Perry Youngreen, treasurer.

The fraternity has adopted a new policy of installing freshman assistants to the officers to familiarize them with the duties of the officers. Those appointed were Jess Haro, ICC representative; Bobby Morrison, assistant secretary; Gary Ogg, assistant corresponding secretary; J. Van Diver, assistant treasurer; and Frank Martucci, publicity.

Initial plans were made at the last meeting for the fraternity's annual Safari dance, which is the highlight of the club's spring activities.

Club To See Brigadoon

Soc 'N' Buskin, have made arrangements to attend the Yuba Junior College presentation of "Brigadoon."

The group will meet on the campus tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. in the Little Theater, and leave for Marysville at 6 p.m. Will Hodges, president of the club, has announced that anyone wishing to attend may still do so by signing up backstage in the Little Theater.

Newman Club Plans Trip To San Francisco Area

Newman club members will travel to San Francisco Sunday in observance of Cardinal Newman Day. Newmanites from all over Northern California will gather for mass at St. Mary's Cathedral and then meet for breakfast at the University of San Francisco. Breakfast will be followed by discussions and sight-seeing in the afternoon.

Plans have been completed for the semi-annual Pizza party to be held Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Newman Center. Jim Enos and Tom Roche are general chairmen of the affair. Entertainment and music for dancing will be furnished by Tom Kenny's Combo.

The Newman clubs of SSC, Sacramento Junior College, and American River Junior College and the Catholic Forum are sponsoring a series of discussions which are held every Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Newman Center.

The discussions, under the title Theology for the Layman will be led by Dominican priests from the Bay Area, Father Paul Starrs, O. P., and Father Kevin Carr, O. P.

New Membership Drive To Be Held

Bruce Mitchell, president of the California Student Teachers association, has announced that the club's semi-annual membership drive will begin Monday and run through the week.

This semester the main emphasis of the campaign will be on the place of the lower division student in the CSTA.

Additional information may be obtained from members who will be at tables in the foyer of Douglas Hall throughout the week.

WESLEY CLUB—Wesley Club members will meet Tuesday noon in the Ribiera room for a lunch get-together.

Five Women Tell of Troth

Five Sacramento State Colleg women announced their betrothals during the past week. The Brides to be are Agnes Ogar, Barbara Bachtold, Mary Foote, June Mayer and Kathleen Di Pinto.

Agnes Ogar, a junior majoring in business administration, chose a family dinner to announce her engagement to Don Saba. Plans are under way for a wedding on March 9 in the First Methodist Church of North Sacramento.

Mary Frances Foote announced her betrothal to Carter Christie at a party Saturday evening. The couple's parents learned of their plans at a previous dinner. Miss Foote is a sophomore education major. Wedding plans are for October.

Barbara Bachtold will become the bride of Robert Lapp in April. Miss Bachtold is a sophomore education major. Lapp is a senior at SSC and is a member of Xi Theta Chi fraternity.

June Mayer and Charles Godley chose a party in a friend's home to announce their betrothal. Miss Mayer is a sophomore majoring in education. Her fiance is in the navy.

Kathleen Di Pinto, a sophomore business administration major, revealed her plans to marry Larry Lynch at a party in the home of her parents. Friends learned of the engagement at a later party. Miss Di Pinto is a member of the Rally Committee.

Cosmopolitan Organization Divides Into Five Separate New Groups

The newly reorganized Cosmopolitan Club is composed of five sub-divisions each with its own sponsor. These divisions function separately in their own fields of interest except when the club as a whole meets.

The various divisions and their sponsors are: French club which has adopted the official title of Cercle Francasis, sponsored by Dr. Lucie T. Horner, assistant professor of foreign languages; German club sponsored by Dr. Ralph Lowet, assistant professor of foreign languages; Spanish club sponsored James Holton, instructor in foreign languages; International club, sponsored by Dr. Oliver M .Skalback, assistant professor of speech; and the Anthropology club, sponsored by Dr. Thomas R. Williams, assistant professor of anthropology.

IT'S FOR REAL! by Chester Field

LOUIE, THE LOUSE

He strolled through a keyhole into my house,
A dignified, well-bred upper-class louse;
He smiled in a most superior way
And said, "Man has just about seen his day.
If you'll take my advice for what it's worth
Treat insects nice, they'll inherit the earth!
Try to be beyond reproach
In your dealings with the roach . . .
Bedbugs, ants and spiders, too.
Don't forget . . . WE'RE WATCHING YOU!"

MORAL: Well . . . until Louie takes over, take your pleasure BIG. Smoke Chesterfield . . . and smoke for real! Packed more smoothly by ACCU-RAY, it's the smoothest tasting smoke today.

Sports Corner

By JOHN BAILEY

Harvey Roloff deserves a big commendation for his superb job at the helm of the Hornet basketball team. Roloff, in his first year at SSC, has lead the team from a tie for fourth place to first place, or at least second place, depending on the outcome of the University of Nevada series.

The Hornets will have a tough time of it in Reno this weekend. The two biggest obstacles they face are the Nevadan's comparitively towering players and the fact that it is played on Reno court.

To combat the height barrier, Roloff is replacing Lee Farnsworth, who has done a good job in replacing Carl Rolfe, with either Frank White or Dale Freeman. The home floor edge will have to be overcome by hustle which the locals seem to abound in at times.

Hornet fans should send a dozen roses to Humboldt State to show their gratitude for their wins over Nevada last week.

Sacramento needs one victory and Nevada, unanimous preseason title favorite, will need two victories for the championship.

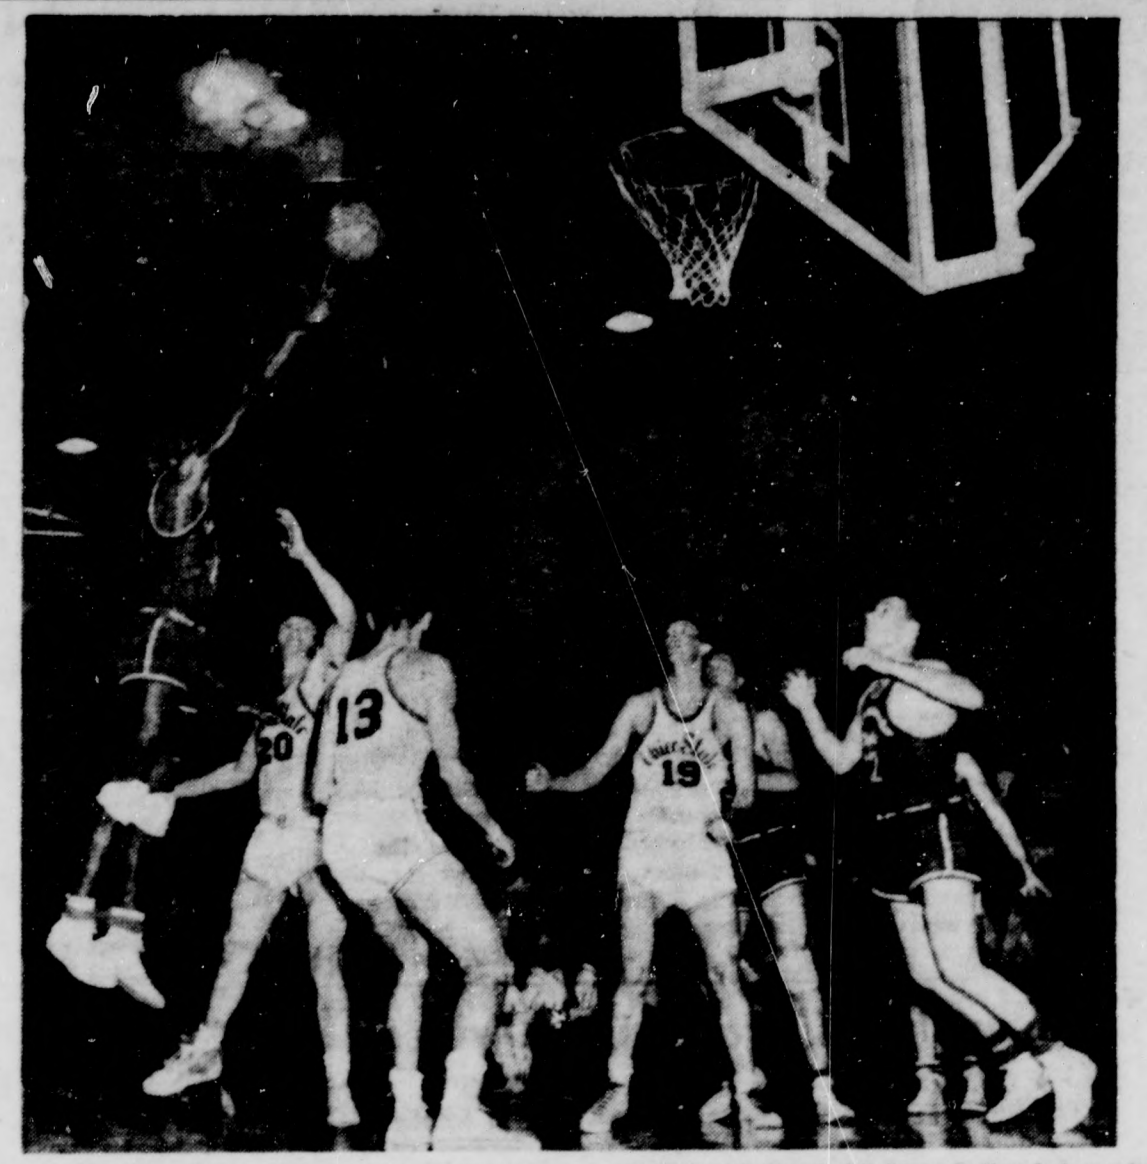

The FWC champion will automatically qualify for the NCAA small school tournament and will play an at-large team.

Sacramentans, if the Hornets win, will all benefit from this as the first games will be played in the SSC gym if the locals advance to tourney play.

Another group who should get a bouquet are the Far Western Conference schedulers. They couldn't have figured a more enticing schedule with climax coming in the final series of play.

Bob Schurr proved himself to be the real backbone of the Hornets last week in the Chico State game. The little hustler had to leave the game with a bad ankle and the Hornet big lead disappeared only to return when Schurr was put back into the ball game.

Win or lose this week Hornet fans can always say wait until next year. The locals are losing only one man off of the 11 man squad that is making the trip to Reno.

TWO POINTS—Hornet forward Chuck Mobley is shown scoring two points against Chico State College Friday night. That basket helped Harvey Roloff's cagers defeat the Wildcats, and coupled with Humboldt State College's two wins over Nevada, helped move the Hornets into first place in the Far Western conference race.

State Boxing Squad Defeats Chico Team

Beginning to look like potential champions, Sacramento State's boxing team defeated the Chico State College Wildcats, 5-3, Friday night, in Chico.

Always tough, especially in their own gym, the Chico ringmen were able to win only two bouts, and one of them was on a forfeit.

In the evening's most exciting match, Hornet 157 pounder Bill Snelson started poorly but finished very well, scoring a technical knockout over Wildcat Lee Richter in the third round. Snelson was on the canvas himself in the first round.

Hornets Jim Flood and Paul Messer won decisions in the 167-pound and heavyweight classes, and the visitors picked up another point with a forfeit win in the 139 pound division.

Genaro Munoz, 125, drew with Ted Johnson of the 'Cats, and another draw came in the 147 pound battle between Hornet Stan Gallagher and Gene Radtke. Gallagher fired one excellent punch too many in one of the most unusual fights of the season.

After starting slowly, the Sacramento 147 pounder was beginning to have things his own way when he broke his opponents nose in the second round. The bout was stopped, and called a draw, as the men were even on points at the time.

Lumberjack's Assist In Hornet Title Drive

Humboldt State College's basketball team hasn't won many games this season, but in the eyes of the Sacramento State Hornets the Lumberjacks are just about the greatest team in the world.

The usually weak Lumberjacks found new strength last weekend, and defeated University of Nevada twice, pushing the Hornets ahead of the slipping Nevadans and into first place in Far Western Conference standings.

While all this was going on, the Hornets were splitting a couple of weekend games. Harvey Rolloff's surprising Sacramentans topped league opponent Chico State, 72-67 Friday eve, then were blasted in a practice game by St. Mary's 75-43 on Saturday night.

As a result of all this, the locals are a full game ahead of Nevada with a 7-1 league record. Only two games with the Wolfpack in Reno stand between Sacramento State and the championship.

Chuck Mobley's floor play and 24 ponts had much to do with the win over Chico, as did the rebounding of center Don Fausset.

Fausset added 16 points to the Hornets cause, and reliable Bob Schurr was good for 15 more.

The Wildcats starters seemed quite inept, and it was the Chico reserves who caused the Hornets the most trouble. Second stringers accounted for 43 of Chico State's 67 points.

St. Mary's first place team of the strong California Basketball Association, had too many guns for the locals, who weren't helped by the fact that Mobley and Schurr were both nursing injuries, and unable to perform up to par.

Intramural Cage Season Underway

Intramural basketball opened last week with the Rinkydinks downing Omega Chi Delta, 51 47, in a high scoring fray. Other games were as follows: Hotshots 41, Block "S" 22; Alpha Pi Delta, 26, Faculty 24; and Administration 23, Transfer Boys 14.

Net Team Opens Slate At Tourney

Next weekend the Sacramento State varsity tennis squad travels to Berkeley to play in the Northern California Intercollegiate Tennis Championships. This will be the first 1957 outing for the Hornets. They will face stiff competition in the tournament from Stanford, California and Modesto Junior College.

Prospects for a winning tennis season were increased at SSC with the recent addition of Harry Coleman, of El Monte, and Bill Reinhardt, of Stockton. Both are freshmen and figure to be the top 2 players on the squad. Returning lettermen are Chuck Green, Warren Coffeen and Bob Parks. Ken Nickolai, Vallejo JC transfer and Tony Damiani have also given the team added strength.

Coach Jack Jossi disclosed that the Hornets have scheduled 23 matches, the highlight of which, will be a trip to Oregon during Easter vacation. While in Oregon the Hornets will play: Southern Oregon, University of Oregon, Portland State, Reed College and Williammette on 6 successive days. Jossi added that the team is much stronger at each position this year and that the added depth of the team will provide excellent competition among the players during the practice sessions.

Besides their Far Western Conference matches the Hornets will play practice matches on a home and home basis with: San Jose State, Santa Clara, College of Pacific and Fresno State. SSC will host the FWC singles and doubles championship on May 10 and 11.

J.V. matches have been scheduled with Sacramento Junior College, American River Junior College and Shasta College. Players on the junior varsity are Dick Foley, Robert Nielson, Roger Chappell, Allen Kohn, Jerry Tollefson and Ted Chatferton.

Boxers Host Chico State

Sacramento State's next home boxing match will be against the Chico State Wildcats on March 1. Although the Hornets defeated Chico last time they met, it is no assurance that they can do it again March 1.

Sacramento is undefeated in four matches this season with four matches to go.

The following fighters will represent Sacramento State against Chico. Genero Munoz 125, Bob Erickson 139, Stan Gallagher 147, Bill Snelson 157, Jim Flood 167, Tom Fischer 177, and Paul Messer, heavyweight.

Frosh Team Ends Basketball Season

Sacramento State's freshman basketball team concluded its season last week with a victory over El Camino High School. The victory gave State ten wins and six loses for the season.

The freshman team was built around the following six players during the past season. Larry Stevens, Jack Hansen, Dick Caetano, Gene Schroeder, Pat Fenwick, and Floyd Fenoccio.

FROSH STAR — Norm Weis will be in Reno series.

Intramural Cage Schedule

Sacramento State's intramural basketball schedule, under the direction of Jim Vitti, got under way last week. The schedule will be played in two rounds. The rest of the first round schedule is as follows.

February 25, Rinkydinks vs. Xi Theta Chi, and Hotshots vs. Alpha Pi Delta; February 26, Gilamonsters vs. Kappa Sigma Phi, and Faculty vs. Administration; February 28, Rinkydinks vs. Orphans, and Hotshots vs. Transfer Boys.

March 1, Omega Chi Delta vs. Xi Theta Chi, and Block S club vs. Alpha Pi Delta; March 4, Rinkydinks vs. Gilamonsters, Hotshots vs. Faculty; March 5, Omega Chi Delta vs. Kappa Sigma Phi, and Block S Club vs. Administration.

March 6, Gilamonsters vs. Orphans, and Faculty vs. Transfer Boys; March 7, Xi Theta Chi vs. Kappa Sigma Phi, and Alpha Pi Delta vs. Administration.

Eight Profs Leave For Further Study

Leaves of absence for a variety of studies and projects have been grantd to eight Sacramento State College professors during the spring semester, Dr. Stephen L. Walker, dean of the college, said Monday.

On Sabbatical leave are Robert J. Else, associate professor of art; Dr. Dwight C. Baker, chairman, division of social sciences and Dr. Charles F. Howard, professor of education.

Else will work in midwestern and eastern art centers on a series of drawings and critical essays. Baker is completing a study of racial origins in the area centering on Zurich, Switzerland.

Howard is continuing a leave begun in the fall semester to assist British and Belgian university faculties in revision of their training programs for teachers of science.

Leaves of absence for national projects have been authorized for three faculty members. Dr. Henry R. Hanson, professor of education, is in Cambodia as an adviser in the U.S. State Department program to aid the country in establishing an elementary school system.

Dr. Stanley Rughart, assistant professor of mathematics, is conducting a National Science Foundation program at Oklahoma A & M College in Stillwater, Oklahoma. The aim of the program is to train high school science teachers to encourage their students to enter science careers.

Dr. Lyman A. Glenny, assistant professor of government, is continuing a Carnegie Foundation study of the division of functions among junior colleges, colleges, and universities in various states.

Continuing leaves for other purposes are Hal Wolf, basketball coach, and Dr. Norman Rudy, assistant professor of statistics. Wolf is working for his doctorate in physical education at Columbia University. Rudy is conducting statistical studies for the Israeli government.

Miss Flashbulb Contest Begins

Miss Flashbulb, an annual activity for the Student Loan Fund drive, is getting underway at once, according to Don Shebert, chairman of the event.

Shebert outlined the rules for this year's contest which "should bring in all sorts of money."

Shebert said the swim-suited femmes would be voted on by buying ballots. "The girl whose picture brings in the most money is, naturally, the winner. Any doll who has a wealthy boy friend —or boy friends—has a good chance of being crowned. And you see, it's all in the interest of the Student Loan Fund."

Shebert said that both photographers and models must be members of the Associated Students of Sacramento State College; that models could pose in bathing suits only and be photographed with either natural light or flashbulb. He also asked that the photographers submit both a vertically posed 8x10 print and a vertical 2x5 print. "We want the negatives also, but they will be returned," he said.

"Photographers may submit more than one entry," Shebert said, "but each entry must be of a different model. Preference will be given, however, to a photographer's first entry. They must be technically good and—oh yes, appealing to males."

Agencies Plan Senior Interview

The following agencies will interview seniors on the dates indicated. Appointments must be made in advance at 230 Administration building:

Feb. 26—University of California radiation laboratory: Physics, chemistry and mathematics—also discontinuing students having two or more years in physics or mathematics.

San Francisco Naval Shipyard: Sophomore and junior engineering students. (Pre-interview application forms are available.)

March 1—State personnel board: Graduating seniors in all fields—many opportunities available.

March 8—U. S. Civil Service Commission: All senior degree candidates—a great variety of opportunities now open.

Personnel Man Visits Campus

Robert Williams, state personnel representative, is scheduled for a campus visit on March 1 to interview graduating seniors.

Openings exist in more than 30 different classifications. The greatest need exists in accounting and engineering, and in the liberal arts group; i.e., employment management, research and statistics, property appraisal and negotiation, and insurance and safety engineering. Each of these entrance positions leads to promotional opportunities in the respective fields.

Interested seniors should make advance appointments at the placement office.
